Earthscape Finishes

All Brass, Copper & Stainless Fixtures
Have a Limited Lifetime Warranty!

If we are going to use premium metals like Brass, Copper, Stainless and Galvanized Steel, it only makes sense that we would only use premium finishes. We call our line of finishes "Earthscape" because they are meant to simulate colors found in nature. After all, your deck is outdoors. Earthscape Finishes will continue to patina over time, gaining visual appeal rather than losing it. Powder Coated finishes offer durability and value. Please use the list below as a reference for the entire catalog.

Transformer Collection

The transformer is the heart of your lighting system and should not be overlooked. Substituting with a cheap, poor quality transformer is not a good idea. Here's why...Low grade transformers don't regulate power very well, thus shortening the life of your bulbs. They tend to be hotter and louder, even loud enough to hear a humming sound on the surface it's mounted on. We've even heard of melt downs, which increase the risk of a fire. Their life expectancy is only a few years, if that. Certainly, much less than your Highpoint fixtures are going to last. Simply put, professional grade lighting should operate on a professional grade transformer.

Highpoint transformers feature a cooler, quieter operation, built-in circuit breakers for peace of mind; all packed in a solid stainless steel case and backed with a lifetime warranty. UL Listed and made right here in the U.S.A. Performance and longevity make our transformers a true value.

At Highpoint, creating beautiful outdoor living environments comes second to only one thing and that is our clients . For over a decade, we've been making friends before making money. Integrity, trust and honor haven't been sales pitches, it's how we've been doing business and it's why we are now known as the finest deck lighting company in the world. We treat our clients with respect, which by the way, is exactly how we, as consumers would expect to be treated . Simple yet rare. If you experience a problem, we will respond quickly in a hassle free manner. We will be diligent to learn your name and take time to understand your lighting needs so we can actually be helpful. We are friendly, knowledgeable people who are pleasant to work with. Bottom line...our customer service is just as real, unique and high quality as our lighting.
